Summer Academic and Emotional Enrichment for Teens

At Innovations, we know that public health emergencies such as COVID-19 have an enormous impact on the academic and mental health of young people. Many parents are feeling pressured and confused about how to help kids with remote learning, and teens can be concerned about keeping up with expectations from school. In response to helping families cope with this challenging time, we have developed an academic and emotional enrichment summer resource for adolescents.

This resource can help jumpstart progress during the summer, or supplement work that has been difficult to maintain at home after school closures. It will also provide therapeutic time to address what many families are describing as, "the most stressful time ever".

Resource Details

Monday-Thursday from 2:00 PM-4:30 PM. Includes two hours of academic tutoring in core subjects (English, math, and/or science) for students entering 9th grade to entering 12th grade. This will be an in person learning experience to prepare students for a smoother transition to a new school year. CDC guidelines and protocols will be followed and closely monitored.

- Students will have individualized attention with a tutor in groups of 10 or less
- Provide therapeutic group time with a licensed, masters-level therapist to address coping with the onset of COVID-19
- Insurance not required
- Minimal fee to cover cost of tutoring
